STEVENS POINT SECOND

Wausau High School Athletes Again Win Championship Cup in Field Day Meet in This City.

The second annual high school track meet, with contestants from Stevens Point, Wausau, Merrill, New London and Iola, took place at the fair grounds in this city last Saturday afternoon. It was held under the auspices of the Stevens Point Normal. Wausau scored first place with 49 points; Stevens Point second, with 42; Merrill, third, 30; New London, fourth, 14; Iola, fifth, 4. Two other places that were scheduled, Marshfield and Wautoma, failed to appear.

It was a great day for the red and white from the time that Crandall and Riebe romped home first and second in the 100 yard dash until Riebe, Laatsch, Eggebrecht and Crandall ran the four other teams in the relay race off their feet, says the Wausau Record-Herald. The score saw-sawed back and forth throughout the afternoon, Stevens Point, mainly through the good work of Bannach, star weight man, keeping the lead till the second last event.

Crandall of Wausau was the individual star of the meet, winning the 100 yard dash, the high and broad jumps and also running on the victorious relay team. Riebe of Wausau won the 220 and 880 yard runs, took second in the century and ran the first quarter of the relay. Eggebrecht took second in the 220 and third in the 440 yard run, and also ran in the relay. Swanson of Wausau and Johnson of Stevens Point tied for first place in the pole vault, Swanson winning the cup on the jump-off. Swanson also placed third in the low hurdles. Smith ran second in the 220 yard hurdles and Duncan, with a heave of over 108 feet, captured second in the hammer throw. Pope took third place in the shot put.

The half mile run was the most spectacular race of the meet. Kinzel, the Merrill star, had already won the mile, and started the half mile like a sure winner. Here Riebe gave one of the gamiest exhibitions of the afternoon and gradually crawled up on the Merrill man. The two runners came down the stretch shoulder to shoulder. About fifty yards from the finish the Merrill man accidentally jostled and spiked Riebe, but came to the core, the Wausau boy showed a magnificent burst of speed and breasted the tape a foot ahead of Kinzel. Riebe and Eggebrecht also figured in a sensational finish in the 220 yard dash, the former winning by inches.

Crandall set a new mark in the high jump at 5 ft. 3 in. First place in the event—hinged on the outcome of the last event—the mile relay, in which Iola, Merrill, New London, Stevens Point and Wausau were entered. Riebe, who had already run four hard races, ran the first quarter of the relay for Wausau. Going slowly against a brisk wind down the stretch, the Wausau runner trailed the field for 200 yards and then cut loose with a 58 seconds quarter and sent Laatsch off with a 30 yard lead. Laatsch and Eggebrecht both gained on their men and Crandall broke the tape in 3:57.4 for the mile. The scene at the finish of the relay as the crowd swarmed over the track was a stirring one, and the joy of the Wausau rooters was unbounded.

Saturday's victory gives Wausau High two legs on the championship cup, and one more win will make it the permanent property of the local school.

Will Again Be Heard.

A re-hearing of the decision recently rendered by the railroad commission at Madison in the matter of the Stevens Point Lighting Co. on local rates, will be held in that city by the commissioners on the 26th inst., information to that effect having been received by City Clerk Bronson.

Now a Lumber Manufacturer.

Chas. Hoffman of Abbotsford came down Monday morning to spend a few days among friends in this city and vicinity, including Jordan, Plover and Knowlton. Mr. Hoffman, who is a former Stevens Pointer, is now a full fledged lumberman, being one of the owners of the Custom Lumber Co. plant at Abbotsford, his partner being Adolph Young, brother of O. A. Young of this city. They own and operate a saw and planing mill and have a retail and wholesale lumber yard. Their plant is run by steam. Having finished sawing for the season, Mr. Hoffman decided to take a short rest from active duties.

MET WITH FATAL FALL

Oscar Peterson, Foreman During Construction of Soo Steel Bridge, Killed at Minneapolis.

Oscar Peterson, whose home was at Superior, but who was employed by the Frankman Bros. Construction Co. of Minneapolis in the construction of a new viaduct for the Great Northern railway in the latter city, met with a fatal accident on the 2d inst., falling fifty feet. His head struck a rail, fracturing the skull, and when picked up he was unconscious, in which condition he remained until he passed away the following Tuesday afternoon. Peterson was 36 years of age and leaves a wife and two children.

The deceased was quite well known here, having acted as foreman during the recent construction of the Soo steel railway bridge crossing the Wisconsin river in this city, and boarded at the Gemberling residence on Strong's avenue. He was of a genial nature, steady, industrious and reliable, and the many friends he made while here will be shocked to learn of his sad death.

The remains were interred at Superior and the widow is prostrated over the sad occurrence.

Prompt Payment is Made.

Mrs. Bella O'Connor, the beneficiary of the late C. E. O'Connor, who held a contract in the Equitable Fraternal Union of Neenah, has been paid in full. The claim was paid immediately on the receipt of death proofs, but as Mrs. O'Connor was absent from the city, she did not receive the draft until a day or two ago. The promptness with which the E. F. U. settles its claims, speaks well for the association. Claims are allowed immediately after the adjustment of death proofs.

The local assembly is represented by some of the best business men of the city, and while the last meeting was not very largely attended, it was the most enthusiastic ever held, each member resolving to make this the banner year. They plan to have their next meeting on Monday, May 18th, an evening long to be remembered by giving the members one of the old time good times.

THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET

Woman's Club to Have Feast Next Saturday Evening—Musical and Literary Program to Follow.

Responses received up to date indicate that next Saturday evening's banquet of the Woman's Club will be the most largely attended gathering of like character ever given by this organization. It will be held at the club rooms in public library building at 6:30 o'clock. The usual after-dinner toasts will be eliminated this year and in their stead a musical and literary program is being prepared. Misses Anderson and Parker give a piano duet, vocal solos will be rendered by Mrs. T. H. Hay, Miss Phena Baker and Mrs. T. H. Hanna, a piano solo by Mrs. James Blake and a reading by Mrs. J. A. Stemen.

Mrs. D. J. Leahy and Mrs. F. H. Patterson, who have charge of the decorations, are planning several very pretty effects, the color scheme to be white and green.

Death of James Gardner.

One of the early day residents of Stevens Point, coming here in 1852 from Maratow, Canada, where he was born in 1840, James Gardner passed away at the county farm at Amherst Junction at 11 o'clock Saturday night. Although he had long been in poor health, the immediate cause of death was pneumonia, after an illness of but a few days. He had been at the farm since last fall, having applied for permission to go there on account of his physical condition. The funeral was held at Amherst Junction Tuesday afternoon.

Baby Boy Dies.

Harold Marvin Lutz, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Lutz of Amherst Junction, died May 9th, after being sick nearly two weeks with pneumonia. Besides the parents there are left two brothers and one sister to mourn the death of the little one. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 1:30 from the home, Rev. Schmidt of Stevens Point officiating. Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollard and the Misses Ada Urban and Florence Rosenkrans were present from Stevens Point. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, among them being: Carnations, Mike Lutz and family; cut flowers, K. O. T. M.; gladioli from the family; roses, Mr. and Mrs. P. Pollard and Mrs. Wm. Maine; calla lilies, George Lutz and family; ferns, Mrs. Julia Plide; violets and ferns, Daisy Falch, lilies, Minnie Doyle.

SAW THE BULLETS FLY GETS IT IN THE NECK

Stevens Point Boy Took Part in Skirmish Around Vera Cruz, Mexico—Writes to Mother.

Under date of May 1st, Edward Pipe, son of Mrs. J. S. Pipe of this city, who is on the U. S. battleship "Utah" and took part in the battle or promiscuous shooting about Vera Cruz, Mexico, in which seventeen American soldiers were killed and about fifty wounded, while three hundred Mexicans "bit the dust," writes as follows: "Dear Mother—Well, we are back again on the Utah. All of the ship's crews have been relieved from duty in and around Vera Cruz. The army has full charge now. I will try and give you an idea of our battle.

There were only two battleships in the harbor on the morning of the 21st, the Florida and Utah, also a transport with a few marines aboard. Just before noon the Florida's marines and sailors landed to take charge of the customs house. After they had landed they were fired on, so we were ordered to land. As soon as the Mexicans saw us enter the harbor (in small boats) they fired on us and continued firing till we had landed, but did not hit anyone. As soon as we were ashore we filled our rifles with shells; also had ninety rounds in our belts and a bandolier with ninety more rounds on our shoulders, making 180 rounds to the man. Sharpshooters were ordered to clear the R. R. yards, shoot any Mexican that carried a rifle, and I can tell you it was ticklish business, as they were behind cars and in the roundhouse, which served as a regular fort. We drove them out of the yards and captured the roundhouse without losing a man. We got a good many Mexicans just the same.

Slept in a coal pile all night of April 21st, started in bright and early in the morning of the 22nd. Ordered to leave R. R. yards and go into the residence part of the city, going through each house and destroying any arms found. All of this time the Mexicans were shooting from house tops and windows. In one house we lost three men. We broke into the house and they fired on us, shooting Sargeant Fitzpatrick, Corporal Peoples and Private Holtsinger. We got two of the Mexicans.

I was ordered to stay there and shoot any Mexican I saw that was armed. After the rest had left I heard a noise in the house and went in and got three prisoners that were not armed. You see the odds were all against us. They could shoot, then hide their guns and come out, and of course we could not shoot them. They would find out where we had gone, then go back and let us have it.

In the afternoon it became quieter and we rested till dark. Then we were posted on street corners in pairs, not much doing that night. A few shots on the 23rd. April 25th we were ordered to the water works, which is about fourteen miles out of the city. Came back to Vera Cruz on Thursday and passed in review before Admiral Fletcher and Gen. Funston. Our company was first in line and the American citizens certainly gave us cheer after cheer. The most accurate count of our losses are seventeen killed and around fifty wounded and the Mexicans about three hundred. Your son, Ed.

Sour Grapes?

Abbotsford Clarion: About 35 firemen and brakemen were layed off at Stevens Point this week on account of the slack of business at this time of the year. The laying off of men on the railroad no longer effects Abbotsford and who cares here whether the division ever comes back again? We got a better town now than when the division was here.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Funeral of Miss Katherine Mancheski Took Place Friday and That of Lawrence King on Saturday.

The funeral of the late Miss Katherine Mancheski, who was killed by a Green Bay & Western switch train last Wednesday evening, an account of which appears on the second page of this issue, took place from St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock Friday morning, Rev. S. A. Elbert officiating, with interment in the parish cemetery.

A requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning by Rev. S. A. Elbert, assisted by Rev. H. J. Ehr and Rev. V. Fruc, for the repose of the soul of the late Lawrence King, whose death was mentioned last Wednesday. Thereafter interment took place in the parish cemetery. The attendance was very large, Mr. King having long been a prominent citizen of the North Side. The St. Peter's and Sacred Heart societies attended in a body. The pallbearers were Matt Pliaka, August Koska, Bert Klish, Nick Dodsik, Adam Mancheski and Joseph Kryszinski. In addition to his immediate family the deceased also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Geo. Sprede, Mrs. Joseph Jersak and Mrs. Adam Musial, all of this city.

This is the Opinion of Sixth Ward Member of Board on Speaking of Teachers' Salaries and Working Hours.

Ten members of the board of education attended the regular meeting of the board of education, held Monday evening, E. L. Martin and C. W. Simonson being absent.

After the minutes of the preceding meeting had been read and bills allowed, the resignation of Miss Nina L. Chenevert, as teacher, was read and accepted.

Leo A. Hein applied for the position of manual training teacher in the event of a vacancy, and Clerk Blood reported he had received the sum of $15.50 for tuition and from other sources during the month of April.

The clerk was authorized to procure proper dirt for filling on First ward school grounds, there being but one bid received.

Upon motion of R. A. Cook the clerk was authorized to secure prices on play ground apparatus for 1st ward.

The high school grounds, especially on the Ellis street side, being in an unsightly condition owing to being cut up by coal and other delivery wagons, upon motion of L. R. Anderson a committee was authorized to inspect the same and report their ideas as to betterment, etc.

The committee on teachers reported in favor of engaging the following applicants: Adeline Grimm, 8th grade, $35.00 per month; Louise Kolklock, kindergarten, $32.50; R. B. Peterman, Merrill, commercial, $30.00; Eva Mellentine, assistant, $30. The report was accepted and adopted.

The clerk reported that all teachers and janitors engaged at the last meeting had accepted positions except the janitors from the 3d and 6th wards. Adolph Cook, member from the 6th and who is also janitor of the school in that ward, said he could not accept the position owing to the duties involved, which require the mopping of the school once per month when once each week would be better—the cleaning of the wood work with a damp rag, and other requirements laid down, a list of which he read, but no action was taken.

Previous action as to the purchase of a safe was reconsidered and the clerk was authorized to buy one offered by the Week Lumber Co. for the sum of $55.

Supt. Roberts reported that a committee appointed at the last meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' association had reported in favor of asking an appropriation of one cent from each pupil in the state to pay the expenses of presenting a proper exhibition at the coming San Francisco exposition, which would mean about $14 for the public school children of Stevens Point. R. A. Cook moved that the sum of $15 be appropriated for this purpose, but as there was no second, the matter was dropped.

Messrs. Martin, Blood and Roberts were appointed as a committee to have charge of the coming graduation exercise, and the clerk reported that the contract for printing five hundred copies of a new school catalogue had been let to the Journal at $1.50 per page.

Adolph Cook, the gentleman from the Sixth, again brought up the matter of a square deal for teachers, that they are not paid in proportion to the number of hours they teach, saying that the newspapers had only published a part of his remarks at a previous meeting. Mr. Cook said that teachers in specific grades teach seven months, eight days and two hours longer each year than those in other departments who drew the same salary. He said this was according to the system laid down in the book of rules, but he would call it "systematic robbery" and is radically wrong. Teachers may be satisfied with this, he said, but if they do "they get it in the neck and take it." This is not a square deal.

Public Library Notes.

Miss Marion Humble, connected with the Wisconsin library commission at Madison, spent Thursday visiting the library.

Miss Millicent Olin has presented the library with several cactus dahlias, bulbs, from Seattle, Wash., which will add greatly to the attractiveness of the lawn.

The library is indebted to Mrs. Chas. Lane for 25 large and beautifully illustrated pamphlets with scenes and descriptive text on "America, the grandeur and beauty."

Peace day, celebrated on May 18th, will have a peculiar significance this year, owing to the peace conference of the A. B. C. countries. This seems an opportune time to call attention to the many interesting books in the library on the A. B. C. countries and Mexico. Also books and pamphlets on the world peace movement, such as Jordan's "War and Waste," "International Arbitration," "Our Relations with South America and How to Improve Them," etc.

Accepts Minnesota Call.

Rev. D. M. Kuhn, for the past seven months pastor of the Methodist congregation at Milladore, has accepted a call to Sauk Rapids, Minn., where he will take charge of a large congregation. It is a fine opportunity but Rev. Kuhn is a close student and one in every way capable of performing the duties. About fifty of his friends and parishioners at Milladore planned and successfully carried out a surprise on his last evening, calling at his home in a body and spending several happy hours. As a token of remembrance they presented the young clergyman with a handsome watch chain.

To Visit the Fatherland.

Wm. Wienholt, whose home is at 516 Strong's avenue, this city, boarded Sunday afternoon's train for Milwaukee to join several friends and proceed with them on a European trip. Mr. Wienholt's friends and acquaintances on the voyage will number about twenty, most of them going to their native homes in Westphalia, Prussia. The Stevens Point gentleman has several sisters and brothers living there, whom he has not seen since coming to America in 1887. He will also visit Berlin, Hamburg and several other German cities before returning home next fall.

POLISH WRESTLER WINS

Zbyszko Defeats German From Chicago and Norwegian From Cincinnati—Attendance Was Small.

Wrestling bouts in Stevens Point are not as popular as they were in the old days when Jack Karkeek was "on earth" and in his prime, as may be judged from the greeting tendered Wladek Zbyszko, the Polish giant, when he visited the city last Saturday. This is not due to a lack of interest and enthusiasm shown by his countrymen, however, especially those of the younger generation and American born, as they turned out in goodly numbers and showed their appreciation, a number coming from Amherst Junction, Fancher and other parts of the county.

Zbyszko gave two exhibitions at the Grand, one in the afternoon and another in the evening. Albert Scholtz of Chicago, whose weight was about the same as that of the champion, 220 pounds, was the first opponent, and was downed in two straight falls, the first in 20 minutes and the last in 5 minutes.

In the evening the attendance was somewhat larger than that on the previous occasion, although the lack of interest was still apparent, only about two hundred being present. Albert Eberg, a Norwegian giant from Cincinnati, weighing 260 pounds, staked his prowess against that of Zbyszko, but he also was doomed to defeat, although he was strongly inclined to use some rough tactics at times. The first bout lasted 25 minutes and 10 second before the referee, Elmar Pendergrast, declared that Poland had won the first battle against Norway. After a rest of a few minutes they were up and at it again, but 2 minutes and 36 second later the man from Cincinnati was lying squarely on his back again, both shoulders touching the mat and the contest was ended.

Zbyszko left for Winnipeg, Sunday, to wrestle Dr. Roller, a famous American wrestler, while the others returned to Chicago.

Street Foreman and Surveyor.

At a meeting of the board of public works, held Monday evening, E. A. Anschuetz, street foreman, was re-engaged for a period of six months, and J. F. Maxfield, county surveyor, was asked to look after the work of surveying in the city.

Prominent Wausau Citizen.

Hon. E. C. Zimmerman, one of Wausau's leading and most honorable citizens, passed away at his home in that city shortly before midnight on Monday after an illness of but a few days with bronchial pneumonia. He was born in Germany, August 31, 1857, and came to this country with his parents in 1869. Wausau had been his home since 1878, and he is survived by his widow, two daughters and one son. Mr. Zimmerman was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow and a leading Democrat, having served as a delegate to the convention that nominated Wilson and Marshall. He had served three terms as mayor of Wausau, besides holding other offices of trust and responsibility, and was a grand citizen in all respects.

Will Visit Europe.

Thos. D. McGuire of Chicago spent a few hours in the city today visiting his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Collins, and nieces, Misses Mary and Clara, on S. Third streets, and numerous other friends, going from here to Ogema to visit another sister, Mrs. John O'Connor. Mr. McGuire and party of other Chicago gentlemen, ten in number, will sail on the 16th of June for a European trip, to be gone about three months, which time will be devoted to a tour through Norway, Sweden, Germany, Russia, England, Ireland, France and other countries, going as far north as the "land of the midnight sun." Considerable time will be spent in Russia, where St. Petersburg, Moscow and other cities of note will be visited, and the trip will be no doubt an interesting and valuable one.

MANY CASES ARE HEARD

The original charge against the young men was assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Royal Nash vs. Nell Morgan Nash. Wood county special. Judgment of divorce granted plaintiff.

The case of the state of Wisconsin against Frank Konopacki, charged with abandonment, came to an abrupt close Wednesday forenoon, when the district attorney asked that the case be dismissed. A. L. Smongeeki appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Gaulke is treasurer of the Portage County Drainage Commission and a former chairman of Grant. Mrs. Gaulke is a sister of Mrs. Frank H. Timm of this city, and the mother of a large family. No other particulars are obtainable at this time.

ANOTHER GOOD MAN GONE

Theo. Rutta, Former Chairman of the Town of Hull, Called to His Eternal Home.

? Friends throughout Portage county, and he had many of them, as no more upright, honorable man ever lived in the present generation than he, will be pained to learn of the death of Theo. Rutta, former chairman of the town of Hull, who passed away at 7:30 last Saturday evening. Mr. Rutta had long suffered from an internal trouble, but had been able to be up and about most of the time, in fact was able to visit the city on Thursday. Returning to his home, about three miles northwest of Casimir, it is supposed he caught cold, which brought a sudden and severe recurrence of his trouble, which his physician was unable to check or counteract and he passed away from uremic poisoning at the time above stated.

Mr. Rutta had not only served as chairman and clerk of his town, but was also clerk of school district No. 5 for many years and up to the time of his death, and in all positions was capable, true and faithful. He was 68 years of age, born in Germany, and had lived in Hull for forty years. He is survived by his widow and nine children, Anthony, Frank, Fred, Mary, Frances, Dora, Victoria, Henry, Corlenn and Algona.

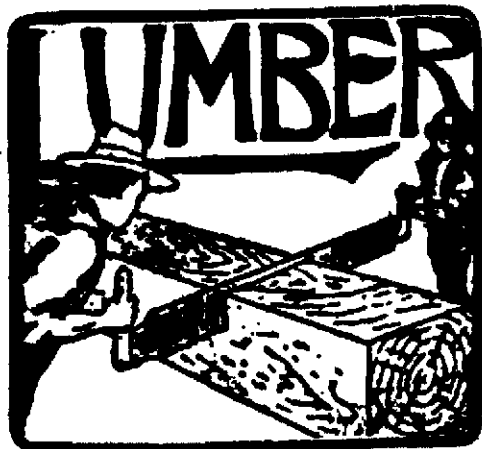

The funeral took place from the Casimir Catholic church at 10 o'clock this forenoon, Rev. L. Jankowski officiating, with interment in the adjoining cemetery. The pallbearers were John Laszewski, Nic Golla, Felix Tetsloff, John Sebora, Matt and Ed. Brill.

Coming Home Tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McGlashie, who have been away from the city for the past two weeks, most of this time in North Carolina visiting at the home of a brother of the former, are expected home this evening.

HELD DISTRICT MEETING

Local Physician Chosen Head of Association for Ensuing Year—There Was a Good Attendance.

Local and visiting doctors had the privilege of listening to an excellent illustrated lecture by Dr. Kellogg Speed, a member of the visiting staff of Mercy hospital, Chicago, last Thursday evening. At this time the annual meeting of the Ninth Council District Medical association was held at the public library club rooms, about thirty of the profession being present.

The subject of Dr. Speed's lecture was "Bone Surgery" and it was illustrated with stereopticon views, showing different forms of fractures and dislocations, making the subject doubly interesting, especially as the speaker is a clear, able talker.

Nearly all Stevens Point doctors were in attendance as well as representatives from Plover, Marshfield, Grand Rapids, Wausau, Junction City, Milladore, Colby, Waupaca, Nelsonville, Edgar, Rudolph and other points in the district, which comprises Portage, Wood, Marathon and Clark counties.

Dr. W. F. Cowan of this city was elected president to succeed Dr. L. H. Pelton of Waupaca, and Dr. J. F. Smith of Wausau was re-elected secretary and treasurer. An excellent 7 o'clock dinner was served at Hotel Sellers. The next meeting will be held at Grand Rapids in July, the October meeting at Wausau and in January at Marshfield.

Many Autos Here.

Sunday the weather was delightful and due to this fact more automobile parties visited Stevens Point than on any other day this season, coming from Grand Rapids, Wausau and other points. Among others who spent a short time in the city were Mrs. Fred Deutch and son, Roman, and daughters, Misses Nora and Esther, and Mr. Fromaster of Wausau, and Nicholas Reiland and M. A. Bogger and families of Grand Rapids. L. J. Reinhart and family of Grand Rapids also spent a few hours in the city.

The girl who can't see any further just at present than a box of chocolates and a matinee ticket may make a fine home builder some day. You never can tell.

A girl in San Francisco fell down and broke her neck, but not knowing it, got up and kept on dancing the tango. It takes a great deal these days to discourage the dominant sex.

SEVERED HEAD FROM BODY

Woman Returning From Work in Paper Mills Decapitated on Green Bay & Western Railway.

There was a lamentable railway accident on the Green Bay & Western, within the city limits, a short distance south of Bliss avenue, Sixth ward, at about 5:25 last Wednesday evening, the victim being Miss Katherine Mancheski. She was returning from her work at the Whiting Plover Paper Co. mill, where she had been employed in the rag room, and was walking on the track between the rails.

The engine had been to Plover after two loaded box cars, one for the Vetter Mfg. Co. and the other for the Week Lumber Co., one of which was ahead of the engine and the other behind. As the short train rounded the curve at Whiting avenue, Engineer Jos. Doyle saw the woman on the track, sounded his whistle to warn her of danger and she was seen to get out from between the rails, and walk beside the track, but a few moments later again stepped between the rails.

Conductor Geo. W. Bigelow was riding on top of the head car and did everything possible to attract the attention of Miss Mancheski. As the slowly moving train approached her he quickly descended one of the side ladders and ran to pull her from the rails, but before he could reach her side, the bumper had struck and thrown her to the ground, with her neck across one of the rails, completely severing her head and rolling it some distance from the body. The body was between the rails, both arms and one foot being crushed.

The accident was undoubtedly due to the fact that the woman was almost totally deaf, and was not aware that a train was approaching. Coroner Boston was notified and took the remains to his undertaking rooms, where the body was prepared for burial, and later removed to the home of her brother, Adam Mancheski, 420 North Second street, from where the funeral took place at 8 o'clock Friday morning, thence to St. Peter's church, Rev. S. A. Elbert officiating, with interment in the parish cemetery.

The deceased was a native of this county, born in the town of Hull forty-one years ago last November. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mancheski, were among the first Polish settlers of that town, but about seven years ago decided to remove to Dunkirk, N. Y., where they have since resided. The daughter remained here and much of the time since had been employed in the paper mills. She is survived by three brothers and two sisters, Joseph Mancheski, Seattle, Wash., and Adam and Dominic Mancheski, Mrs. Joseph Stanczyk and Mrs. John Clark, city.

Released on Parole.

Three small boys, aged about eleven years, John Suchowski, Frank Dijo and Ed. Gaskew, were arrested last week for stealing bicycles, but on Thursday were paroled by Judge Murat, with the understanding that they attend school regularly, as well as church on Sunday, he away from home not later than 9 in the evening, and report to the court, having their school report with them, once each month.

Preparing for Picnic.

At the last annual gathering of the Portage County Old Settlers' Association, held in this city, it was decided to hold the next meeting and picnic at Lake Emily, and preparatory for these events a committee consisting of H. H. Hoffman, Newell Grover, V. W. Ward and John Van Skiver, all residents of that vicinity, were selected to get the grounds in readiness and make other necessary arrangements. The meeting will be held in June, the date to be announced later.

Returned to Former Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Jonas and four children have removed to Stevens Point from Edgar, expecting to make this city their future home. They have lived at Edgar for the past nine years, where Mr. Jonas conducted a cigar factory, meeting with good success, but recently disposed of his business and other property and returned to his former home. Mrs. Jonas is a sister of Mrs. Alois Gross and Mrs. Geo. Hoffman and Mr. Jonas has accepted a position in the hardware store of Gross & Jacobs Co. The Jonas family now occupy the house at 312 Lincoln avenue.

Mexican Menace—Vera Cruz, now prominent in the news dispatches, has been a historical hot bed of yellow fever. In 1509 Spanish colonists attempted to settle there. Six hundred promptly died of the fever. At the end of fifteen months but sixty survived. Tampico is also a nursery for the plague.

From last available reports of the United States Public Health Service there were from February first to the twenty-fourth, 21 cases and sixteen deaths in Tampico, and there was an epidemic at Vera Cruz. Two yellow fever experts have been ordered to Vera Cruz to act with officers of the army and navy.

Undoubtedly, one of the results of the American occupancy of Mexico will be the widening of territory which is free from the smouldering menace of yellow fever. Yellow fever was wiped out of Cuba and the southern part of the United States as a result of the Spanish-American war. The disease had been constantly present in Cuba for two hundred years when we took charge. Every foreign visitor knew that he would contract it. One in four was certain to die of it. By fighting mosquitoes and screening against them yellow fever was eliminated.

Colonel Gorgas, the sanitarian of the canal zone (who deserves as much credit as anyone for the successful construction of the Panama canal) says that "the next generation will look upon yellow fever parasites as we do on three-toed horses—as animals that existed in the past without any possibility of reappearing on the earth at any future time."

Wiping yellow fever out of the United States and Cuba was a simple but gigantic task. It required overcoming among other factors a prejudice against window screens which prevailed throughout the south. More than that, the greatest difficulty was encountered in overcoming the indifference of the public. People of the south has so long been dying of yellow fever that it became a habit. Our habits are difficult to uproot. In many instances inhabitants had to be forced, at the point of a bayonet, to submit to having their lives saved.

In our northern territory flies represent a disease source, comparable to a great extent with the mosquitoes in the warm zone. We of the north have tuberculosis, scarlet fever, typhoid, whooping cough, measles, etc. Any one or all of these could be eradicated were appropriate measures enforced with equal vigor and efficiency. Perhaps our territory will need to be "invaded."

MODERN WOODMEN MEET

State Meeting Held at Fond du Lac Last Thursday, With Insurgents Far in Majority.

The state meeting of Modern Woodmen of America was held at Fond du Lac last Wednesday, the insurgents being the element of the organization being largely in the majority, and Chas. E. Perry of Milwaukee defeated Judge Randall of Kenosha for state consul by a vote of 70 to 49.

This was apparent from the first, as when the selection came for a committee on credentials the administration element were shelved, 48 to 69.

For the position of state clerk the insurgent nominee, J. H. Andrews, was elected unanimously, Wm. Lyora, the choice of the opposite side, having declined to become a candidate.

T. J. Pitt of Eau Claire was the representative from this county and was rewarded by being elected as alternate delegate from the 8th district to the national camp, which will be held at Toledo, Ohio, next month. The next state convention will be held at Chippewa Falls in 1917.

Resolutions were adopted as follows: "Resolved by the Wisconsin State Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America:

"First—We favor the repeal of the so-called 'Chicago rates' and prefer to see our old rates restored without change, but if a higher schedule is deemed advisable, we insist that it shall be a level raise applied as of age of entry and that but one class be maintained in the society.

"Second—We favor an amendment to the constitution and by-laws so as to provide that no proposed change in rates shall become effective unless approved by the majority of members voting in local camps in regular session upon due notice to every member.

"Third—We deplore the loss of nearly 300,000 of our younger members as a result of the attempted revolution of our plans and rates. We would hail with approval any fair, fraternal and neighborly method of restoring them to our ranks and recommend the earnest consideration of the problem to the 1914 head camp meeting.

"Fourth—We demand the repeal of the 'Mobile Law' in all states where enacted.

"Fifth—We favor true economy in the management of the society by the abolishment of sinecure offices and by substantial salary reductions.

"Sixth—We favor an amendment to the by-laws, fixing a permanent limit per diem and mileage of delegates to the 'Head Camp.'

"Seventh—We favor the revision of the deputy system and the election of state deputies by state camps.

"Eighth—We favor the limitation of terms of all elected head officers to not exceed two successive terms and that no person shall be eligible to office who is interested in an old life insurance company other than as a policy holder."

Monitor—Mrs. E. G. Ressler.
Secretary—Mrs. J. E. Fisher.
Anchor—A. V. Gearhart.

McDILL GIRL MARRIED

Miss Charlotte Pauckert Accepts Leon Minnis of Kalamazoo, Mich., as Life Partner, Thursday Evening.

There was a pretty marriage ceremony at the residence of Rev. James Blake, on Church street, at 5:30 last Thursday evening, when that gentleman united in bonds of matrimony Miss Charlotte Pauckert of McDill and Leon Minnis of Kalamazoo, Mich. Miss Gertrude Konzelman and Ernest Shannon, both of McDill, were the attendants. The bride and bridesmaid were attired in white, the former wearing a beautiful gown of mesaline with an overdress of embroidered lace, while that of the bridesmaid was embroidered voile.

Thereafter a bountiful supper was served and a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pauckert at McDill, relatives and friends of the contracting parties to the number of about twenty-five being present, while later in the evening the crowd was swelled materially and the occasion was enjoyed by all until the midnight hour, including a charivari that had been arranged by friends of the bride.

The bride is one of Portage county's best young ladies, bright and prepossessing, and has always been a favorite with all who know her. McDill has been her home from infancy and she is also well known in this city, where she attended school for some time. The groom is an energetic, intelligent young man, a millwright in one of the paper mills at Kalamazoo and will no doubt prove a good and worthy husband to his fair companion. May blessings be their's.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. A. L. Luckie, East Rochester, N. Y., was a victim of sick headache and dizziness caused by a badly weakened and debilitated condition of her stomach, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She says, "I found them pleasant to take, also mild and effective. In a few weeks' time I was restored to my former good health." For sale by all dealers.

Marguerite Ragan of Grand Rapids was second in declamation and Frank Rowley of Wausau second in oratory.

Will Try Again.

W. A. Watson of Belmont, who was a candidate in the Republican primaries in this county two years ago for assemblyman, but was defeated by Don C. Hall, says he will be in the field again this year for the same office. His is the only name thus far heard of on that side of the fence, Mr. Hall being an avowed candidate for senator.

UNFAMILIAR FACES

Historical Characters of Whose Looks We Know Nothing.

THEY LEFT NO PORTRAITS.

Many of the Famous Figures and Heroes of Colonial and Revolutionary Times Are as Blanks to Us So Far as Their Personal Appearance Is Concerned.

In the search for a portrait of Thomas Willett, the first mayor of New York, the committee from the City club visited nearly every print dealer in the city in addition to scores of private collectors of Americana. But there was no portrait to be found.

Any one who has ever attempted to make a collection of the pictures of the big men of early New York soon realizes that there are many blanks. For instance, of the four Dutch governors Peter Stuyvesant is the only one of whom we have a correct portrait. Of Peter Minuet, William Kieft and Wouter van Twiller there is absolutely nothing accurate, although various caricatures have appeared from time to time.

The same is true of a still more eminent New Yorker, William Bradford, the first printer, who founded in 1725 the New York Gazette, which was the first newspaper printed in the province. Bradford was so prominent a man and so active for years, both in Philadelphia as well as in New York, that it is rather surprising not to have something worthy of being called a true portrait. If there was, perhaps his features might be on the tablet erected on the site of his printing office, now of the Cotton Exchange, at Hanover square.

The lack of an authentic portrait of Nathan Hale, the martyr spy of the Revolution, is somewhat better known, although the sculptors MacMonnies, Partridge and others have not allowed this to restrain them from depicting the features of the young soldier in stone or bronze. Of Colonel Ethan Allen there is no known portrait, and the same is true of the doughty warrior, General Nicholas Herkimer.

One of the heroes of Bunker Hill, Colonel Richard Gridley, has left no portrait. He was the artillery engineer who built the fortifications the night before the battle. Other prominent Revolutionary fighters of whom no pictures exist are Colonel William Ledyard, the defender of New London, who was killed by a British officer when Ledyard surrendered the fort; General Thomas Conway, leader of the notorious cabal to depose Washington from the command of the army in 1777; Colonel Seth Warner, who was prominent in the attacks on Ticonderoga and Crown point and in the battle of Bennington; General Seth Pomeroy of Massachusetts, and General Samuel Holden Parsons, one of the board which tried Major Andre and was appointed by Washington as the first judge of the northwest territory.

No accurate portraits exist of two of the fifty-six signers of the Declaration of Independence, John Morton of Pennsylvania and John Hart of New Jersey, although a portrait which is said to be that of Hart hangs in Independence hall in Philadelphia and is said to have been painted from a miniature.

There is nothing extant of the father of George Washington, Augustine Washington, nor have any portraits been discovered of Colonel Ball, father of Mary Washington, mother of the general, or of John Dandridge, father of Washington's wife, Martha Washington.

A portrait which a great many collectors of old New York material would give a good deal to obtain is that of Samuel Fraunces, the West Indian tavern keeper, whose best known house was the old Fraunces tavern, now owned by the Sons of the Revolution, restored since they purchased it a few years ago to its original condition. It is on lower Broad street, on the corner of Pearl street, and the famous long room in which Washington took farewell of his officers has been restored as closely as possible to its original form.

There is no portrait of William Cunningham, the heartless keeper of the provost jail in a corner of City Hall park during the Revolution. Betsy Ross, the celebrated maker of the first stars and stripes, has no portrait. Captain Miles Standish is among those who have left nothing of their personal appearance, nor is anything known of the intrepid French explorer Joliet, who traced the sources of the Mississippi.

Others of more or less note of whom there are no portraits are the old English dramatist, Christopher Marlowe; Richard Savage, another well known English dramatist, who died in 1749; Marquis Duquesne, from whom Fort Duquesne, now Pittsburgh, got its first name from the French; George Clinton, royal governor of New York from 1743 to 1753 and father of the British general in the Revolution, Henry Clinton; Colonel John Henry Cruger, General Oliver de Lancey, Governor William Tryon, General John Forbes, Baron Dieskau, General Robert Howe and Bourrienne, Napoleon's famous secretary, who wrote an excellent life of the great French emperor.—New York Times.

Advice is seldom welcome. Those who need it most like it least.—Dr. Johnson.

THREE EMPIRES.

Monarchies That Practically Sprang Into Being Overnight.

Prior to Jan. 18, 1871, the German empire, as we know it today, had no existence. Instead it was a jumble of kingdoms, states, duchies, grand duchies and principalities, all joined together by a like language and common political aspirations. It is true, but otherwise quite separate and distinct.

Then came the historic ceremony in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles. Paris had just been captured by King William of Prussia, and it was held to be a fitting time and place to proclaim him the first German emperor. Never since the dawn of history was an empire born more dramatically.

By a strange irony of fate, too, its birth took place amid the ruins of the French empire, itself the creation of a day, or, rather, to be strictly accurate, of a night. France went to bed on the evening of Dec. 1, 1851, a republic. When it awoke next morning it was an empire. During the hours of darkness Paris had been occupied by troops, and the prince-president had become Napoleon III.

Equally sudden and almost as sensational in its way was the birth of the modern Greek empire. After the yoke of the Turks had been thrown off in the war of independence the country became a republic. But the people soon tired of that democratic form of government and promptly proceeded to assassinate their first and only president. Then they met together, elected a king and settled themselves down to be ruled by him in a quite orderly and contented fashion.

AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

New Selz Royal Blue Shoe Store Opened to the Public Last Saturday—Souvenirs Distributed.

Young's Selz Royal Blue shoe store, located at 422 Main street, was opened under most auspicious conditions last Saturday. The weather was pleasant during most of the day, permitting the public to get out, and the store enjoyed a nice business. The store is neat, attractive and nicely arranged throughout, being equipped with everything that goes to make an up-to-date establishment of this kind, being admired by all who called. The show windows, fixtures, etc., are also of the latest.

A. M. Young, the proprietor, is a thorough shoe man, having devoted several years of his life to that business, and comes here to please the public in price, quality and style. On Saturday he was assisted by Messrs. C. D. Davis and V. D. Faber of Chicago, representatives of the Selz, Schwab & Co., while Leo Kowalski, of this city, has been engaged to remain as permanent clerk.

Hundreds of souvenirs were given away on opening day.

FAMOUS WINTERS IN PARIS.

Once Every River In France Was Ice and Every Mill Idle.

Recalling famous winters in France, the Paris Petit Journal says that "the fifteenth century might justly be called the cold century."

"In 1408 the registrars of the parliament of Paris reported that it was impossible to issue any of its resolutions because the ink froze in the ink bottles of the clerks. Every three words they had to thaw their pens, and this with a fire roaring in their room. Every river in France was frozen, and not a mill could work. Twelve years later, in 1420, there was a repetition of this winter. Foodstuffs gave out, and poor people died by tens of thousands."

"In 1422 in less than three days the wine and the vinegar froze in the cellars; cocks and hens had their combs frozen; the streets were full of people who danced, jumped, wrestled and ran races, anything to keep off frost-bite."

"In 1430 it froze for more than two and a half months, and the snow fell for forty days without stopping. All the birds hidden in the trunks of trees died."

"In 'the year of the great winter,' as 1603 was called, hundreds of persons died from cold. Everything was frozen hard, even the bread served at the table of Henry IV. In 1709 all the wheat was destroyed, and a new sowing had to be made in the spring. Buffon relates that no bread was to be had. Even Mme. de Maintenon had to go without it."

"In 1778 sentinels were found frozen to death outside Versailles, and the king put a stop to this service. In Paris great bonfires were lit in the streets. Bells were shattered into pieces as they rang, clocks stopped and in the cellars wine turned into ice. Hares and partridges came into the towns and hid themselves in the nooks and corners of houses, where they were subsequently found as stiff as a board and quite inedible."

HUNTING THE CARIBOU.

Curiosity Often Lures the Watchful Animal to Its Fate.

In hunting the caribou quietness is essential. Never break a twig if you can avoid it, for a cracking branch makes a noise which carries far and may give warning of your approach to the very stag you particularly want. Equally important is it to keep a sharp lookout at all times, especially when entering a barren, where a stag may be sleeping, for under such conditions they are hard to see. Among the numerous gray dead stumps and moss covered low trees the color of the caribou is so inconspicuous that the untrained eye will fail to detect the animal even at close range. The first intimation will be a glimpse of a disappearing patch of white as the caribou vanishes into the woods.

All these things considered, the caribou of Newfoundland is not as alert as any other deer that I know of and is therefore more readily approached. There is, of course, great variation among them, some being extremely alert and difficult to stalk, while others are so absurdly tame that they will allow a man to walk right up to within a few yards before taking flight. Curiosity is often a noticeable failing with them. When once it is aroused they will go to almost any length to satisfy it. I do not, however, advise the hunter to count too much on it, for the very thing which you imagine will tempt this curiosity will as likely as not frighten them away. Sometimes a strange noise will make them very inquisitive, and they will come within a few feet to find out what it is. Then, occasionally, a white handkerchief will have the same effect.—A. Radcliffe Dugmore in "The Romance of the Newfoundland Caribou."

Misleading Bookkeeping.

Even bookkeeping is not an exact science. For behold! how often is it that one man will put into the expense account a given expenditure—say, the rebuilding of a machine—thus reducing his profits by this amount, while another will put such an item to the asset account, and each can advance weighty arguments and reasons as to the logic of his methods. But the net results of operation will differ widely with the same actual occurrences, so that even bookkeeping may be said merely to render results dependent upon the aspects of the situation as rendered by those who have the authority or opportunity to interpret.—Benjamin A. Franklin in Engineering Magazine.

Points of the Crescent Moon.

Why does the moon sometimes appears with points turned upward and at other times downward? There is one cause only—the rotation of the earth. If the moon rises with points turned upward then, when it sets, the points must turn downward—that is, the western horizon meets the points in its apparent approach; they point toward it, apparently downward, in the western sky.—New York American.

Felt the Power.

Jill—I know it.

THE LADIES AT MARSHFIELD

Eighth District Convention of Women's Clubs Held There Last Week—Many Go From This City.

The eighth district convention of Women's Clubs was held at Marshfield last Wednesday and Thursday, when Stevens Point had the distinction of sending the largest delegation of any outside town. Those who went up from here were Mesdames D. J. Leahy, W. J. Sumway, C. C. Conliak, C. E. Shortell, E. A. Sherman, J. L. Jensen, L. M. Maloney, M. L. Alban, C. von Neupert, J. A. Bremmer, J. N. Weisby, J. W. Stroppe, representing the local Woman's Club, and the following members of the Progress Club: Mesdames B. B. Park, J. V. Collins, W. W. Taylor, G. E. Culver, T. L. McGlachlin and Miss Martha Week.

The district vice president, Mrs. Anna Lathrop, presided over the sessions and Mrs. C. E. Shortell of this city was chosen as secretary. Mrs. Hamilton Roddis delivered a charming and delightful address of welcome. The response was given by Mrs. C. W. Magee of Shawano, whose happy way of telling the ladies their duty in a broader field will be both helpful and inspiring.

The state president, Mrs. Strahorn, gave an address in which she said that the slogan of the women's clubs was the one word "Service." The woman's club was in no sense dictatorial—it was an open parliament. "We want home work in music to be given credit," she said. "It is not given every one to be a physical mother, but each can be a social mother."

The main feature of Wednesday evening's meeting was a reading by Miss Ellen Sabin, president of Milwaukee Downer College entitled "Enoch Arden." She was accompanied on the piano by Miss McPheters of Milwaukee.

On Thursday morning reports were heard from the clubs at Waupaca, Wautoma, Wittenberg, Nekeons, New London, Shawano and Stevens Point. Mrs. Lathrop also told about her work as district vice president. A splendid address on "Suffrage" by Mrs. Isaac P. Witter of Grand Rapids was followed by a talk on "Home Economics" by Mrs. Truesdell of Waupaca. Next came a paper on "Art in its Relation to the Home," by Mrs. D. J. Leahy of this city, which received many flattering compliments. At the close of the session Mrs. Leahy was asked by the Waupaca and Shawano delegations to repeat her address before their clubs the coming year.

Fishy Story From Racine.

The good citizens of Stevens Point and especially those who have long resided here, are wondering who Amelia Tibbitts is, who a dispatch says won a husband by 1,178 votes in a theatre at Racine last Saturday evening. The man, Chas. Reimer, is said to be a ranchman from Virginia, Minn., and advertised for a wife at Racine. Amelia may be alive and now a married woman, but no such name or personage is known in Stevens Point.

Disappeared From Home.

George Holbert, a veteran of the Civil war and about four score years of age, who disappeared from the Veterans' Home at Waupaca on the 5th inst. and came to this city, was found asleep in a barn near the boom house by Alber Grubba on Monday and brought to this city. He had been in that vicinity for several days. He was furnished with transportation and returned to the Home.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy are Taken

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be like a crippled up, bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poisons from the blood and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

A Fight In Tropical Waters

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

I was at anchor in my yacht one night near the mouth of the great Yaqui river, in Santo Domingo. I had put in there in obedience to storm signals and was waiting for the storm to come and go. But it did not appear. The night I speak of was clear, and there was a full moon. Of course it was hot. It is always hot in that region.

There were rumors of negro insurrections and revolutions in Haiti, which is the western part of the island and not far from where I was lying, and I was not enjoying my stay, for, being at no great distance from either shore, I did not know when a party of lawless negroes would come aboard for murder and loot.

Unfortunately during the day we had heard of a dance that was to take place at the house of one of the small planters living in that region, and the whole crew asked me for leave to go. I preferred that none of them should leave the yacht, but reluctantly consented that half should go in charge of the quartermaster, leaving me the other half. They had not been gone long before I saw a boat coming with a single man in it, who told me that some negroes were looting his house and begged me to send a force to drive them off. I could not refuse such a request, and my men all wished to be permitted to go. I sent four of the five, retaining one man, Erickson, who was not very well and therefore perfectly willing to remain with me.

The second detachment had not been gone long when, pacing the stern deck dissatisfied with myself for letting my crew leave the yacht unprotected, I saw a boat evidently well loaded with human beings leave the north bank of the river and pull directly for me. I smelled danger at once and called to Erickson, who was in his bunk in the forecabin, to bring up an armful of weapons and ammunition.

He soon came up the companionway staggering under his load and distributed them in different parts of the yacht. When the approaching boat came near enough to distinguish her crew and I could see that they were all blacks, it flashed across me that the information that had been given my men as to the dance and the story about the attack on my visitor's home were simply ruses to get my men away in order that a party might come out and loot the yacht. I took position with a repeating rifle astern and ordered Erickson to place himself further forward. If I fired I would pick a man in the bow, and he was to fire at a man in the stern.

When the boat came within range I ordered the men to keep off, but they paid no attention to the order, pulling right along. All but the helmsman had their backs to me and every oarsman was busy with his oar; consequently I had the advantage of them, for they could not both row and fight, while I could pour lead into them at lib. The boat was a yawl and there were eight oarsmen in her, each man pulling a single oar.

I gave a second order before firing, and still not being obeyed I took aim at the bow oarsman as near as I could distinguish him from the others and fired. My shot was followed by one from Erickson. We could not see just what damage we had done, but it was evident that we had thrown them into confusion. They stopped rowing and some of them were evidently ministering to wounded men, while others were jabbering at each other in a lingo we did not understand. At least we were not near enough to do so.

Not wishing to hurt any more men than necessary, I ordered them to turn about and pull away. But the steersman, who was evidently their leader, was yelling at them to pull for the yacht, for most of them gave way. I fired again and saw a man fall backward. Erickson duplicated my shot, but apparently did no damage. Seeing that our enemy was bent on rushing us, I dropped my rifle and picked up a couple of hand grenades, calling to Erickson to do the same.

I had scarcely changed my weapon when by a spurt the blacks came up and rounded alongside. Both Erickson and I met where they touched the yacht and each tossed a hand grenade into the boat. A terrible havoc was produced, but I did not stop to see just what damage was done, for I heard oars pulling with a quick stroke on the other side of the yacht. Shouting to Erickson to defend that side, I ran to the other side, carrying an armful of weapons with me.

I saw another boat coming which I did not doubt was an auxiliary force to the one I had been opposing. Without waiting to halt them, I fired a shot at them. I don't think I hit any one, but in another moment I heard a halloo and the sound of oars in another direction. This I knew to be some of my crew returning. The boat on my side changed its course and pulled away as fast as it had come. The boat on the other side in which most of the men had been disabled had already dropped off, seeing Erickson's arm raised with another grenade.

When I got my crew together again I put them in our small boat, with hawsers attached to the yacht, with orders to pull down the river. They did so, and when day broke we hoisted sail and put out to sea. I had had enough of that island, and I have never visited it since.

WHEN YOU ARE NERVOUS

you have the first symptom of a run-down system, and nervous people too often conceal their aches and pains and suffer in silence, while, if neglected, this condition often becomes more serious trouble.

If those so afflicted would stop taking medicine containing alcohol or drugs which menace the foundations of health, and just take the pure, strengthening nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, it would create new blood to pulsate through the organs, refresh their bodies and build up the whole nervous system. It is rich, sustaining nourishment, free from wines, stimulants, or harsh substitutes.

Most talking nuisances are willing to concede the listener enough time to express their approval of what they are saying.

"The Greatest Kidney Remedy on Earth," Says a Grateful Woman.

I want to tell you how much good your Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago, I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time, I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctors' medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so kept on using it and today I am well and strong. If I ever feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Respectfully yours,

Finger Clamp Facilitates Making of Buttonholes.

A little metal clamp has been invented to assist the sewing woman in the making of the buttonholes. It is shown herewith. It is made of metal comprising a tubular member about the size of the finger, around which the material to be operated upon is placed. Two adjustable clamps are provided to hold the cloth in place. When it is desired to release the cloth this can be done by spreading the clamps. It will be readily seen how this device will be of great assistance to the seamstress in the making of buttonholes.

Savory Cabbage.

One medium sized cabbage, one pint of moistened stale bread, one-half pound of sausage meat, one finely chopped onion salt and pepper, grated nutmeg, the pint of stock. Blend together the softened bread, sausage meat and all of the seasonings. Remove the outer leaves of the cabbage, cleanse it thoroughly and cook in boiling water for ten minutes. Drain, spread the leaves apart and place the force meat between them. Press the leaves back as nearly into shape as possible and tie the cabbage firmly with tape or string so that it remains in compact form. Place in a deep baking dish with the broth. Cover closely and cook until tender, basting from time to time during the cooking. Serve very hot.

Practical Sewing Hint.

Threading a package of needles at a time will be a great help to an old lady with failing eyesight. The whole package should be threaded on one spool of cotton, placing a knot on the thread after the last one is put on. When a threaded needle is wanted it is only necessary to take one needle and push the other back, cut as long a thread as may be required, tying another knot to keep the needles from falling off. When one needleful of thread has been used the empty needle may be stuck in a pin cushion and another needle taken from the spool, and so on. When all the needles have been used some one should thread the whole lot again.

Mayonnaise Dressing.

Yolks of two eggs, teaspoonful of sugar, teaspoonful of salt, teaspoonful of mustard, saltspoonful of cayenne pepper, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one pint of olive oil. Stir the dry ingredients together thoroughly and beat into the yolks of the eggs. Add oil, drop by drop, very slowly at first. As it thickens add a few drops of vinegar, then oil again. When the vinegar is used up add the lemon juice, drop by drop, then more oil until all is used. The dressing should be made in a bowl set in ice water and stirred with a small egg beater. Keep it in a cold place.

Italian Fritters.

One cupful flour, one-half cupful cold water, two eggs, one tablespoonful olive oil, one saltspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful grated cheese, one tablespoonful cooked bacon, six green peppers. Make a batter from the two beaten eggs, the olive oil, salt, flour and half cupful of water. Add a heaping tablespoonful of grated cheese, the bottled Parmesan being the best. Chop very fine one tablespoonful of cooked bacon and add to the mixture. Fry in deep fat. Fry six green peppers, cut lengthwise into quarters, and serve with the fritters on a hot dish.

Lacquer For Brass.

Dissolve two ounces of gum copal in one pint of denatured alcohol and one-fourth of a pint of amy alcohol. Since the gum is slow in dissolving, it is well to get it powdered and shake it occasionally for a few days, and then let it settle for a day or so. The clear liquor should then be poured off into another bottle. Polish your brass or silver first and then apply with a small brush. A very thin coat is all that is needed.

Fried Potato Balls.

Two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, one small egg, two tablespoonfuls of milk or cream, salt and pepper, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, stale breadcrumbs. Mash the potatoes very smoothly. Add to them the seasonings, parsley and the egg. Beat until quite light. Form into small round balls no larger than an English walnut, toss in the stale breadcrumbs; then fry golden brown in smoking hot fat.

That Weak Back

accompanied by pain here or there—extreme nervousness—sleeplessness—may be faint spells—or spasms—all are signals of distress for a woman. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood—passing from womanhood to motherhood—or later suffering from the change into middle life which leaves so many women weak. At any or all of these periods of a woman's life she should take a tonic and nerve prescribed for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women.

has successfully treated more cases in past forty years than any other known remedy. It can now be had in sugar-coated, tablet form as well as in the liquid. Sold by medicine dealers or trial box by mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps.

Miss Elizabeth Lordahl of Berkeley, Cal., in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce said: "I was completely broken down in health, I was aching and had pains all over my body and was so nervous that I could scarcely sleep. I talked to me, but I had the good fortune to meet a nurse who had been cured by Dr. Pierce's Prescription. I have never had an occasion to consult a physician since—am in excellent health."

MOVING PICTURE PLAYS.

The Man Who Perfected Them and What the Future Promises.

C. Francis Jenkins of Washington, who was awarded the Elliott Cresson gold medal in 1895 for the successful method of projecting motion pictures on a large canvas, has been given new honors for his work in the "movie" line. The Franklin Institute of Philadelphia has now awarded him the John Scott medal for his recent achievements in moving pictures.

Here is a man unknown to the millions for whom his original research has made possible the thousands of theaters in which photo plays are produced. Much of his early experimental apparatus has been acquired by the National Museum, Washington, and is now shown in the graphic arts section.

Other scientific minds are bent to the further perfection of the movies, and a recent declaration by a technical writer would lead us to look forward to the day when the projected scene will not only appear real, with the apparent actuality of color depth and distance, but the actors will have body and what looks like substance. In fact, they will appear to be real. Add to such a consummation the perfected talking attachment, which we have been led to expect, and we will have convincing shadows elbowing the flesh and blood actors of the "legitimate" stage.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Keep Movement Regular.

"I got more relief from one box of Dr. King's New Life Pills than any medicine I ever tried," says C. E. Hatfield, of Chicago, Ill. 25c at your druggist.

The person who writes an anonymous communication is so many kinds of a chump that it isn't worth while to go to the bother of enumerating them.

Whooping Cough.

"About a year ago my three boys had whooping cough and I found Chamberlin's Cough Remedy the only one that could relieve their coughing and whooping spells. I continued this treatment and was surprised to find that it cured the disease in a very short time," writes Mrs. Archie Dairymple, Crooksville, Ohio. For sale by all dealers.

Shot Through the Foot.

While handling a revolver at his home in the town of Hull, a few days ago, the weapon was discharged and the bullet went through the foot of Ed. Faske, the owner, and he has since been under the care of a physician.

Remodeling the Shops.

The work of remodeling the old Wisconsin Central shops at the South Side, or those that will be occupied by the Railways Materials Co., was commenced this morning, a crew of men being put to work. They are in charge of F. S. Hebben, engineer for the company, and it is estimated that it will require about six weeks to get the buildings in shape for occupancy. Mrs. Hebben accompanied her husband here, to remain until the work is completed.

The principal improvements to be made is the building of a steel cupola on the north side of the plant. It will be 25 feet square and 35 feet high. Only a few expert moulders and other mechanics will be brought here from outside, all the other workmen in the new plant to be hired locally and taught the business.

F. B. Kleinzer, carpenter foreman at the Toledo plant of the company, has also come to Stevens Point to assist Mr. Hebben in the change being made here.

OBITUARY

ELSA N. BEYER.

In the death of Miss Elsa N. Beyer, which occurred at the family home, 1801 Church street, at 6 o'clock last Saturday evening, one of Stevens Point's best and most exemplary young ladies has been called. She had been teaching in the town of Marshfield, but was compelled to relinquish her position and return home, gradually failing to the end, which came after an illness of eight weeks with pleurisy.

The deceased was born at Marshfield twenty-three years ago the 17th of last October and graduated from the High school in that city in the class of 1908. She attended the Normal summer school one term, and was completing her sixth year as teacher when compelled to resign, temporarily as she supposed, on account of illness. The family came here during the winter of 1910-11 and on the 21st of February, 1911, another and younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Beyer, Miss Elizabeth, passed away.

Those left to mourn the last lamentable affliction are one brother, John, and two sisters, Misses Anna and Ella, all of whom are at home.

The funeral cortege left Miss Beyer's late home on Church street at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, going to the Friedens church, where services were conducted by Rev. M. M. Schmidt. Interment followed in Forest cemetery.

Relatives and friends who came from a distance included Miss Viola Manshal of Abbotsford and the following from Marshfield: Mrs. Gus Wenzel, Mrs. Ed. Degner, Mrs. John Moersfelder, Mrs. Henry Miller and daughter Edith, Mrs. John Benke, Mrs. Martin Arndt and son Emil, Mrs. John Rocklein.

The sudden death Saturday of Mrs. H. C. Wood, a pioneer resident of Plainfield, was a shock to her many friends. She was a daughter of the late W. W. Stilwell, an early resident of this town. She is survived by her husband and six adult children, three of whom, Frank, Warren and Mrs. Marie Bound, reside in Idaho. The other three children live here and are D. M. ## How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

McGovern to the effect that his excellency will appear in Stevens Point on Thursday evening of next week, May 21st, at the regular meeting of the above organization, when he will deliver an address on "The High Cost of Living." There will no doubt be a large attendance.

Demonstration of the Redfern Corset

By Miss Ida M. Lewis
(An Expert Fitter)

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, May 14-15-16

The Grace of Venus is portrayed in the natural figure lines today. But to obtain this you need a lightly boned corset without risking the loss of your good lines through non-support of your corset. And this is the risk with most of the lightly boned corsets.

But Not So With a REDFERN Model. You can have as lightly a boned a garment as your heart desires, practically boneless but for the clasp and backbone; or you may have one more liberally boned; but whatever the boning the design is responsible for sustaining your figure.

We Have Many REDFERN Models graded accurately as to the length of skirt, height above the waist, and other details to suit every woman, whatever her size.

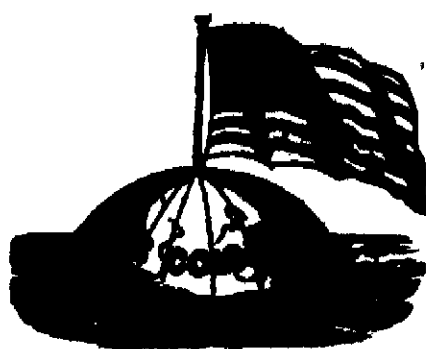

REDFERN CORSETS are not expensive, as high-class corsets are considered. Quite the contrary. They are very inexpensive, but are the finest type of corset made for current fashions.

CALL TO ARMS
SEEN IN WORD
TO GOVERNORSWashington Asks How Soon
State Militia Can Be Put in the Field.

FUNSTON WIRE STARTS IT

Messages From Vera Cruz Give Mexican Situation More Warlike Aspect—May Send Large Force to Funston—Huerta Says
Truce Is Broken.

Washington, May 9.—The Mexican situation has assumed a more warlike aspect. Activities in the war department began on the receipt of long confidential advices from General Funston which later were brought to the attention of President Wilson and the cabinet when the regular session began.

In connection with the military preparations for a possible forward movement, it became known that the officials of the war department have been in long distance telephone communication with the governors of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, in an effort to determine how soon the militia organizations of those states could be mobilized and sent to the seaboard for shipment in transports.

The department has been energetic in its efforts to make all preparations for the possible mobilization of the National Guard for some time.

Inquire About Militia.

Latest inquiries of the department were directed toward ascertaining how soon the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio troops could be put in motion, in their present condition, without delay that would be necessitated by recruiting them up to full war strength.

Secretary Garrison is chartering six ships to use as army transports. This is in addition to the five transports already available at Galveston.

The question of placing a large force of Americans in Vera Cruz that would be strong enough to defend that port against any attack or to undertake any possible campaign against Mexico City, was later laid before the president and his cabinet by Secretary of War Garrison.

War department officials, it was stated, decided that reinforcements were needed at Vera Cruz, at the late conference of Secretary Garrison and the general staff. The secretary and his advisers went over the entire military situation at Vera Cruz and other points in Mexico before reaching this decision.

Telegram Starts Things.

Secretary Garrison called the conference after a cipher telegram from Vera Cruz had been delivered to him. He hurriedly summoned his aids to the war department.

Among dispatches received was one which reported the firing of two oil wells at Tampico. The protection of American lives and property, it was stated, was the prime motive behind the determination of army and navy officers that the American forces in Mexico should be reinforced.

Secretary Garrison declined to discuss the situation nor would he comment on his conference with the staff officers further than to say that he laid before them a report from General Funston. In this report, it was said General Funston had embodied accounts brought to Vera Cruz by refugees arriving from Mexico City concerning the situation in the capital. Mr. Garrison would not reveal the character of these reports.

Huerta Says Truce Is Broken.

In the midst of the military preparations came definite word that the mediating envoys had received from General Huerta and submitted to the United States government complaint that new landing of American troops and war material at Vera Cruz amounted to a breaking of the armistice which had been arranged by the South American diplomats after their good offices in the Mexican crisis had been accepted by General Huerta and the United States.

This also was one of the subjects before the cabinet. Secretary Bryan stated that the mediators' note had been received by him, and that reply would be made.

Meantime it was learned from a source close to the mediators that they are of opinion they will be able to persuade General Huerta that the United States has not been violating, in spirit at least, the armistice which had been agreed upon. Otherwise a stumbling block would be placed in their way, which might render virtually useless their further efforts at mediation.

Consul's Peril Growing.

Urgent representations were made by the state department through the Brazilian embassy to the Huerta government seeking the release of Vice Consul John R. Silliman, who is reported held by the Mexican federalists at Saltillo. Consul Silliman was reported taken by the Huerta forces, while on a trip to San Luis Potosi, and all efforts of the state department to locate him so far have been futile. The Silliman incident added to the general feeling of apprehension about the state department.

The British ambassador conferred with Secretary Bryan as to conditions at Tampico, and as to negotiations which might insure the safety of the oil properties and oil company employees.

The British embassy here has made representations to Mexico City in behalf of the Americans and English employed in the oil districts and about Tampico.

These foreigners, when they attempted to land and resume their work, were driven off with threats. There has been no response from the Mexican officials.

Mexicans Kill Three Americans.

San Diego, Cal., May 9.—Two Americans were killed and two others seriously wounded while defending the Cinco mine stamp mill near Guadalupe from an attacking force of Mexican federalists, according to a telegram received by H. E. Crawford from British Consul Percy Holmes. Crawford arrived here a few days ago. No names were mentioned in the dispatch.

Rebels Take San Luis Potosi.

Washington, May 9.—San Luis Potosi has fallen into the hands of the constitutionalists, according to information which Secretary Bryan transmitted to one of his callers.

Troops Ready at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., May 9.—On orders from Washington the fourth and fifth brigades of the United States army in Texas City were made ready to embark for Mexico at a moment's notice. The troops were ready to go aboard transports as quickly as orders were received.

Three steamships, the Denver and Colorado of the Mallory line and Osambay of the Texas City Steamship company were chartered to be used as transports and carriers of army supplies.

It was reported that certain railroads had been asked by the war department to keep in readiness to handle a large number of troops on short notice. Several torpedo destroyers started for Vera Cruz.

Pennsylvania Is Ready.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 9.—Officials from National Guard headquarters said that everything was in readiness to respond to a call for the Pennsylvania state troops from the president and that preparations begun months ago had been completed. The Pennsylvania troops number 10,000 officers and men.

Huerta Spies Rob Envy.

Washington, May 8.—Nelson O. Shaughnessy, former American charge in Mexico City, reached the capital. He was robbed of his baggage between New Orleans and Washington. He secreted the vital papers of the embassy and the state code, which he says is safe. The fact that he was "plundered" between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, again in Vera Cruz, on the way to New Orleans, and after leaving the Louisiana city, lends color of truth to the statements made here that Huerta spies have dogged his every move, pilfered his baggage in search of state secrets, and followed him practically to the door of the White House.

Talks With Bryan.

Huerta's agents in Washington have an organization as perfect as any that ever existed and contemplated moves by the United States are known in Mexico City as early as they are here. In some cases before parties concerned in the capital are made aware of them.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy hurried to the state department, but his interview with Mr. Bryan was brief.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy declined to discuss the situation in Mexico further than to say that he believed it possible to obtain a solution of the troubles by the elevation to office of a "compromise" president and board of advisers or cabinet to administer the affairs of government until a general election could be held after all factions had agreed on the plan.

Kill One American.

One American and two British subjects have been killed at mines in the vicinity of Guadalupe. A Mr. Ransdell, presumably a British subject, and seven Americans are cut off by bandits in the vicinity. Other Americans are safe. This information came in a dispatch from the British vice-consul at Guadalupe to the British embassy.

The dispatch to the British embassy was sent in response to an inquiry about conditions at the Cinco Minas mine and the safety of Americans there. It reads:

"Bullion buried Concentrates stored Roth safe. Americans all safe. One American and two British killed at other mines in Jalisco. All mines shut down completely. Ransdell and seven Americans cut off by bandits at Mascota and Huachinango. Only 15 Americans in Jalisco."

The dispatch did not mention the names of the American and British killed.

Funston Halts His Advance.

Vera Cruz, May 8.—With rebels marching on Mexico City from all sides, Huerta still stubborn in his refusal to resign and General Funston's guns commanding the hills toward Jalapa, whence the Mexicans will attack the city, Vera Cruz expected to learn its fate soon—elimination of Huerta and peace, or American invasion.

That General Funston expects to advance on Mexico City is hinted in messages he is sending to Washington. In one dispatch he spoke of the Mexicans concentrating at points along the railroad "to guard the road in case we advance." Meanwhile General Funston is making his own preparations for such an expedition.

To Attack Huerta Stronghold.

Eagle Pass, May 8.—Federal territory in Coahuila and Nuevo Leon has narrowed steadily since the rebels captured Monterey. Between Monterey and the border Monteclova remains the largest stronghold of Huerta's forces. Preparations for a determined attack on that place are being made by rebel commanders. General Murguía advanced his outposts to Sabanas, 25 miles north of Monteclova, and sent 200 of his troops south to guard the railroad between Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, and Sabanas. Other forces are working to repair bridges and track destroyed by the federalists.

Funston Told to Go Ahead.

Washington, May 7.—The war department has sent orders to General Funston at Vera Cruz authorizing him to extend his lines about the city as far as "in his judgment is necessary."

This, it was explained, gives the American commander virtually a free hand in dealing with the situation at Vera Cruz, and it was said that the American lines would at once be extended and heavy fortifications thrown up.

General Funston reported to the war department that he had no definite information regarding movements of Mexican troops, and said he thought it probable that such concentration as the Mexican forces had made was only to defend the lines of railroad to Mexico City in case the United States troops should advance. Mexican natives reported that the track of the Interoceanic railroad was being torn up.

ELEANOR WILSON BECOMES MRS. M'ADOO

Washington, May 8.—Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, and William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, were married at the White House at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. Sylvester Beach, of Princeton, N. J.

The wedding procession proceeded from the main stairway into the corridor, through the north door of the blue room, to the platform erected in the south bay window of the room.

Miss Sallie McAdoo led the procession, followed by Mrs. Sayre and Miss Margaret Wilson. Miss Nancy Lane directly preceded the bride, who was escorted by the president. The groom, with Dr. Cary Travers Grayson, met the wedding party at the altar. Mr. McAdoo wore evening clothes and Dr. Grayson wore his uniform. Rev. Sylvester W. Beach performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony the wedding party proceeded to the red room, where they received congratulations and good wishes of the company. The Marine band furnished the music. Supper was served at small tables in the state dining room. The decorations of the blue room were lilies and ferns, and the decorations in the dining-room were pink and white roses.

Handsome Wedding Presents.

In spite of the small list of invited guests the wedding presents were numerous. Prominent among them were and back. The V-shaped neck is finished with folds of soft tulle. The long mousquetaire sleeves are made of tulle. The real old point lace is gracefully draped over the right shoulder to the left side of the waist and is fastened with a spray of orange blossoms; the lace than continues as a border to the long transparent tunic of tulle, which graduates to the side of the skirt at the train. The sweeping train is three and a half yards in length.

A cap effect bridal wreath, with orange blossoms and long draped veil was very effective.

The old point lace used on the gown is a masterpiece and a work of art in lace making. It is a part of a world-famous collection.

Her Going-Away Dress.

The bride's going-away dress is a three-piece dress made of corbeau-blue gabardine. The coat is made of corbeau-blue charmeuse and gabardine. The front and upper part of back of coat is made of charmeuse. The back is gathered at collar. The three-quarter sleeve of gabardine is topped with the blue charmeuse, the edge of the sleeve being bound with a flat black silk braid. the beautiful silver tea service, given by the members of the house of representatives, a piece of jewelry from members of the senate, twelve silver plates and a platter from the cabinet members and their wives, and a handsome gift from the justices of the Supreme court. From the diplomatic corps, no member of which was invited, came flowers and good wishes.

The bride's bouquet was of orange blossoms, white orchids and lilies of the valley. The flower girls carried white chip hats, hung by ribbons, filled with flowers.

Miss Margaret Wilson's gown was of soft blue crape with pannels and waist of blue tulle. The neck was finished with a cream lace ruff and a flowered sash completed the costume. With this costume was worn a blue lace hat, trimmed with pink roses and touches of black. Mrs. Sayre's costume was exactly like Miss Wilson's except that the color was pink. The gowns of the little flower girls were white, with blue and pink ribbons.

Beautiful Wedding Gown.

The wedding gown worn by Miss Wilson is made of ivory-white satin and trimmed with real old point lace. The bodice is softly draped with satin, which crosses in front and is brought to a point below the shoulders, front and collar are edged with a rose and green flowered narrow ribbon, fastened in front by three ribbon buttons. Long blue sleeves over white chiffon end in wide cuffs of 16 rows of narrow black braid.

The short skirt is of gabardine, with three circular flounces starting at sides of skirt. These are fastened at back with a strap of gabardine attached to which are four small black silk tassels. Between the flounces, corbeau charmeuse, to which they are attached, showing about one inch of charmeuse between each flounce. Flounces and bottom of skirt are edged with black silk braid.

Sketch of Mrs. McAdoo.

Mrs. McAdoo is the only one of the three daughters of the president who has evinced no inclination to pursue an accomplishment or perfect herself in any branch of study. Like her mother, she has talent as an artist in oils and has spent two seasons at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. She has a keen sense of humor, and is much of a diplomat. She is the only member of the White House family who has a nickname. She is called "Nell."

In appearance, Mrs. McAdoo is tall, slender, with a girlish figure, and a light, swinging gait.

ACTION ADVISED BY BRITON

Delegates Who Talk With Secretary of Navy Are Very Cautious in Their Comments and Declare They Are Ashamed of American Citizenship.

Washington, May 11.—American citizens who arrived here from Tampico called on Secretary of the Navy Daniels on Friday and denounced the administration's Mexican policy. These men later will call on Secretary of State Bryan and lay their grievance before him.

Secretary Daniels informed his callers they ought to be happy they got off with their lives. He said they had gone to Mexico to get big profits and they shouldn't expect the United States to look after them if they didn't stay at home.

They told Secretary Daniels if that was the view of the Washington administration they were ashamed of their American citizenship. Furthermore, the delegation accused Rear Admiral Mayo of cowardice because he steamed out of Tampico and left them to the mercy of the Mexicans after this country had ordered the seizure of Vera Cruz.

Secretary Daniels told them they didn't know what they were talking about; if Rear Admiral Mayo hadn't steamed away they would all be dead; and if Tampico had been seized many more would have been killed also.

The secretary, in formal reply to the protest, made a statement which threw new light on some of the circumstances that have guided the department in its action and announced that Rear Admiral Mayo refrained from sending his ships into the river at Tampico to bring out Americans only upon the urgent request of the British naval commander there, who asked that for the sake of all foreigners he be allowed to take out the Americans.

The American vessels were withdrawn from Tampico in the first place, the secretary said, because it was thought their presence at Vera Cruz would be essential. Later, he explained, it would not have been possible for Admiral Mayo to go into the river with his ships to rescue refugees.

The group of callers on Secretary Daniels, whose protest brought forth the foregoing statement, included W. L. Lucas, spokesman for the refugees; J. B. Wood, H. W. Dixon, H. G. Kerren, L. M. Fouts, W. M. Hanson and Dr. W. M. Turner.

RULE BY JOHN D. OR U. S.?

Executive Board of Miners' Union
Says It Is Now Question Which Is Bigger?

Indianapolis, Ind., May 11.—That "it is not the part of wisdom for the miners in the organized states to engage in a general strike at this particular time," was the report on Friday of the special committee to the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, in session here. It was decided, however, to push the strike in Colorado, and an appeal for financial help was issued. It follows in part:

"Will you aid them (the Colorado strikers and families), in their struggle against John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the interests which he represents? The request of the president of the United States through his personal representative that Mr. Rockefeller use his influence in behalf of peace was refused."

"When he denied the president's request, he assumed to be bigger than the government itself. Shall such a condition be tolerated by a free people? Is Mr. Rockefeller and the interests which he represents larger and more powerful than the government of the United States?"

"The Colorado report vehemently attacks John D. Rockefeller, Jr., declaring that he, by 'one word, favoring a settlement through a meeting between the representatives of the coal companies and the representatives of the striking employees,' could have avoided the loss of life and damage to property in this state."

Vienna Press Scores U. S. Envoy.

Vienna, May 11.—The Reichspost published a bitter attack on Frederick Courtland Penfield, United States ambassador, on Friday for presenting a note to the foreign office protesting against the continued delay in trial of Samuel Aronson, general in Austria of the Canadian army. Mr. Penfield is accused of trying to influence the course of justice.

Death Rate on the Increase.

The death rate in Wisconsin for the past three months is slightly higher than it has been for six preceding years, according to the quarterly mortality statement issued by the state board of health. During the months of January, February and March, 1914, 8,223 deaths were reported by the various local registrars throughout the state. This corresponds to an annual death rate of 13.36 per thousand estimated population. Comparing this rate with the rate of 12.93 per thousand for 1908, a rate of 12.2 per thousand for 1909, a rate of 12.2 per thousand for 1910, a rate of 13.2 per thousand for 1911, a rate of 12.77 per thousand for 1912 and a rate of 13.27 per thousand for 1913 shows an increase in the rate over previous years.

Considering the deaths reported by age groups there is a decrease of 3 in the number of deaths among children under one year of age, an increase of 11 in the age group from one to four years and a decrease of 173 in the age group of 65 years and over as compared with the mortality by age groups for 1913.

The more important causes of death with the number of deaths from each disease is as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 543; other tuberculosis, 97; typhoid fever, 34; diphtheria, 91; scarlet fever, 53; measles, 35; whooping cough, 20; pneumonia, 1,190; meningitis, 96; influenza, 39; puerperal septicemia, 26; cancer, 476; and violence, 342. Comparing the number of deaths from certain diseases for the months of January, February and March, this year, with a similar report for 1913, there is a decrease in the number of deaths reported as follows: Other forms of tuberculosis, 24; typhoid fever, 24; whooping cough, 30; meningitis, 23; influenza, 125 and puerperal septicemia, 2. It should be noted in this connection that there is a marked decline in the number of deaths reported from practically all of the dangerous, communicable diseases with the exception of diphtheria. There is an increase in the number of deaths from the following diseases: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 18; diphtheria, 20; measles, 7; pneumonia, 73; cancer, 49 and violence, 21.

The state health officer says that this increase "is not due to the prevalence of any of the so-called preventable diseases but results from chronic or deep-seated constitutional ailments which are attributed in large measure to improper living."

Considering the number of deaths from violence the report shows that 65 resulted from suicide; 66 from accidental fractures; 43 from accidental burns and scalds; 35 from railroad accidents; 18 from accidental drowning; 13 from accidental suffocation; 12 from accidental gunshot wounds; 12 from homicides; 6 from street cars and 3 from accidental freezing.

There are two deaths from infantile paralysis, five from tetanus.

DEMAND ARMS OF COLORADO MINERS

U. S. Army Major Tells Men to Surrender Weapons.

MARTIAL LAW IS ORDERED

Governor Ammons of Colorado Reports the Situation Threatening in One County and Asks More Aid From Federal Soldiers.

Trinidad, Colo., May 9.—Major Holbrook with his staff spent the day among the strikers at Sopris and Segundo, impressing upon them the advisability of peacefully surrendering arms.

Colonel Lockett will issue his final proclamation calling upon citizens to surrender all arms in their possession forthwith.

At military headquarters it was said no forcible search would be made for arms after the issuance of the proclamation.

Colonel Lockett informed District Attorney J. J. Hendricks that, while martial law had not been formally declared, he considered the district under the absolute authority of troops, but that that authority would be exercised only when it was found that county officers were unable to cope with any given situation.

He told the district attorney that he had knowledge of certain saloons selling liquor, in spite of the strict prohibition imposed by the federal officers, and that such sale must be stopped completely and immediately. If the district attorney's office could not enforce prohibition the federal troops could and would.

Urgent appeals were made by operators in the northern coal fields to Colonel Lockett, commanding the federal troops in the southern fields, for additional soldiers to protect mines there, which, they say, had been threatened by strikers. The operators reported that their strike breakers refused to remain at work unless additional protection was guaranteed.

Denver, Colo., May 8.—Advices received at the governor's office were that the strike situation in the Routt county coal fields is tense. Capt. Ralph Dorn, commanding the 20 guardsmen occupying that district, reported that the strikers had removed children from Oak Creek and that the citizens feared an outbreak.

The governor has requested Colonel Lockett to send a detachment of federal soldiers to the district.

CROP BOARD MAKES REPORT.

Department of Agriculture Bureau Issues Its Monthly Estimate.

Washington, May 9.—The crop reporting board of the department of agriculture estimated that an May 1 the area of winter wheat to be harvested was about 35,337,000 acres, or 3.1 per cent (1,119,000 acres) less than the area planted last autumn, but 11.6 per cent (3,688,000 acres) more than the area harvested last year, viz., 31,699,000 acres.

The average condition of winter wheat on May 1 was 95.9, compared with 95.6 on April 1, 91.9 on May 1, 1913, and 85.9, the average for the past ten years on May 1.

A condition of 95.9 per cent on May 1 is indicative of a yield per acre of approximately 17.8 bushels, assuming average variations to prevail thereafter. On the estimated area to be harvested, 17.8 bushels per acre would produce 630,000,000 bushels, or 20.3 per cent more than in 1913, 58.5 per cent more than in 1912 and 46.3 per cent more than in 1911.

The outturn of the crop probably will be above or below the figures given above according as the condition in harvest is above or below the average change.

The average condition of rye on May 1 was 93.4, compared with 91.3 on April 1, 91.0 on May 1, 1913 and 89.4, the average for the past ten years on May 1.

WILSON ASKS OLNEY TO SERVE AS MEDIATOR

Aged Statesman in Letter to Wilson Declines to Serve as Bank Board Head.

Washington, May 8.—Richard Olney, former secretary of state, who has just declined appointment as head of the new federal reserve board, has been asked by President Wilson to serve as one of the representatives of the United States in the mediation controversy with Huerta. Mr. Olney declined the place on the reserve board because he could not give his time to the work. As a representative in mediation proceedings, however, his work would probably last only a few weeks.

Mr. Olney, in a letter to President Wilson, received at the White House, declined the offer of the governorship of the federal reserve board on account of the press of private business.

Mr. Olney's letter read: "My Dear Mr. President: I feel honored quite beyond words by your letter of the 30th ultimo—by the important office offered and by the friendly expression of confidence which accompanied the offer.

"But the act of congress, which very properly requires each member of the federal reserve board to give his entire time to his work, is an insuperable obstacle to my acceptance of the office. In the course of a long life I have in various instances assumed the duties and undertaken trusts which, from their personal nature, cannot properly be devolved upon others.

"If the conclusion I have come to is a disappointment to you, I greatly regret it. But you can hardly be sorrier than I am that I am able to do so little in aid of an administration whose first year of achievements makes it one of the most notable that the country has ever known.

"Trusting you will not suffer your health and strength to be impaired by the strain of the unusual difficulties now attending the duties of your great office, I am,

"Sincerely yours,

"RICHARD OLNEY."

CONGRESS PLANS TO ADJOURN JULY 10

To Quit Whether Important Bills Are Acted on or Not.

REPEAL BILL IS ATTACKED

Senator Bradley of Kentucky Declares Fight Against Free Trade Is Due to Influence of Britain and Andrew Carnegie.

Washington, May 8.—That congress will adjourn July 10 whether or not the president's program for trust legislation and rural credits has been passed was decided upon at a conference at the White House between President Wilson, Senator Kern of Indiana and Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia.

Senator Kern stated that, while the president desired the passage of trust legislation, rural credits and the canal tolls repeal he recognized that the senate could not be expected to remain in session all summer.

"We ought to get through with the tolls question in a couple of weeks," said Kern, "and we will do as much as possible before July 10. At that date we will quit. If we are able to pass the trust legislation, and I hope we shall, we will do so. If not, it will have to go over. The president knows that we will do everything possible to aid his program and he was very reasonable in his wishes relative to the work of congress."

Declaring the fight against free tolls was due to the influence of Great Britain, the Carnegie plan of a "future United States of Great Britain," the Canadian and American trans-continental railroads and the shipping trust, Senator Bradley of Kentucky in the senate attacked President Wilson and the repeal bill.

He charged Andrew Carnegie with working to obtain a union of states in which England should be "first among equals," and the president with "having insulted congress and the country."

"This man Carnegie," he declared, "hand in hand with the ship-owning and trans-continental railroads and coterie that surrounds him, is attempting to persuade American citizens to surrender the sovereignty and honor of their country.

"Repeal will be an acknowledgment of the criminal bad faith of congress, and an humble and servile surrender of the sovereign right to control our domestic concerns."

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—MRS. ORPHEA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

State Happenings

Durand.—At a meeting of the directors of the Pepin County Agricultural society the annual Pepin county fair was set for September 9, 10 and 11.

La Crosse.—While at play Marshall Baxter, two years old, of Leon, discovered a bottle containing liniment. The child drank the contents and died.

Baraboo.—Although run over by an engine and seven cars, Otto Linton, twenty-seven years old, employed as a brakeman on the Northwestern road, escaped with a few bruises.

Manitowish.—Due to a broken rail, freight train No. 160 was wrecked one and a half miles north of the city. Eleven cars were derailed and badly damaged. No one was injured.

La Crosse.—Walter Jones, charged with shooting and killing William Voeck at West Salem, was brought here and lodged in jail because of the threatening attitude of West Salem citizens.

Tomah.—Trained by a dog owned by the man from whom a team of horses were stolen, Charles Woodroth, who worked on the farm from which the animals were taken, has been arrested on a charge of horse theft. Woodroth pleaded guilty at his preliminary examination.

Sheboygan.—Mrs. Garritt Kleinhesselink, aged sixty-two years, died at her home, near Oostburg, from the effects of burns she suffered when her clothing caught fire following the building of a bonfire in the rear of her house. She and a six-year-old girl went out to see if everything was all right when a gust of wind caught up the flames and ignited the woman's clothing.

Beloit.—Clark Eichelberger, Freeport, won first prize in the Beloit college eighth annual interscholastic oratorical contest here, speaking on "The Immigration Problem and the Public School." H. C. Northcott, Evanston academy, second, with "The Apostle of Light." Third place went to Harold Hansen, Stoughton, on "The Wandering Jew." There were five other Wisconsin and Illinois orators. The first three will receive medals.

Waukesha.—Leon C. Funk, seven teen years old, met a terrible death at his father's sawmill in the town of Merton. He was operating a machine and was sitting on a log which was across a carrier leading to the saw. When the log caught it threw him on the saw, cutting off a leg and almost cutting his body in two. He died almost instantly. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Funk and leaves one sister and two brothers.

Madison.—Impairment of vision by an accident when it does not cause the injured person loss of employment in the work in which he is then engaged is not a reason for giving him a large award under the workmen's compensation act, the supreme court held. It reversed an award of the industrial commission to an employee of the International Harvester company, when it found that even with the loss of an eye the man could get steady work as a drill press operator, his trade.

Appleton.—In a spirited contest between Madison, Fond du Lac and Sturgeon Bay, the former city was successful in securing the next quadrennial convention of the assembly of Equitable Fraternal union, which closed here. The officers elected follow: President, Judge Andrew Gilbertson, Milwaukee; secretary, E. J. Kempf, Sheboygan. The insurgents were defeated. The delegates passed a resolution urging that the state convention is opposed to continued agitation of rates.

Milwaukee.—An unidentified man leaped from an automobile at Tenth street and North avenue, drew a revolver and fired two shots in rapid succession into the body of a handsomely dressed woman, and as she dropped dead on the street drew a razor and cut his own throat, falling dead across her body. Before the nearest spectators had reached the couple both had ceased to breathe. The man was identified as Morris Berkowitz, thirty-six, a west side grocer and the woman as his wife who recently instituted divorce proceedings.

Hudson.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to wreck the sawmill of the Central Lumber company of this city by cutting the main belt connecting the engine with the machinery so that it hung by a few strands. It was not discovered until steam was turned on in the huge engine and the belt broke. Power was shut off instantly and the damage done was trifling. Local authorities are making a rigid investigation, but suspicion centers on no one. The Central Lumber company is on the best of terms with its employees, and it is thought that the belt was cut by some one who had a grudge against some of the employees.

Grand Rapids.—The Masonic lodge of this city treated its members and visiting brothers to a banquet under the auspices of the Eastern Star. Seventy-five plates were laid and many visiting Masons from neighboring cities were in attendance. The occasion was the conferring of the third degree of the local lodge.

Oconto.—Loss estimated at $650 was caused when wires became crossed and all the fire alarm boxes in the city were burned out. Emergency arrangements have been made for the protection of the city until the purchase of new boxes.

SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Greenwood, Ind.—"First my hair began to fall, then my scalp itched and burned when I became warm. I had pimples on my scalp; my hair was falling out gradually until I had scarcely any hair on my head. I couldn't keep the dandruff off at all. My hair was dry and lifeless and I lost rest at night from the terrible itching sensation. I would pull my hat off and scratch my head any place I happened to be.

"For several years I was bothered with pimples on my face. Some of them were hard red spots, some were full of matter, and many blackheads. I was always picking at them and caused them to be sore. They made my face look so badly I was ashamed to be seen.

"I tried massage creams for my face and all kinds of hair tonic and home-made remedies, but they only made things worse. Nothing did the work until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my face with the Cuticura Soap, then put plenty of Cuticura Ointment on. Three months' use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment has made my face as smooth and clean as can be." (Signed) C. M. Hamilton, Sept. 24, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Laughter Aids Digestion.
Laughter is a most healthful exertion; it is one of the greatest helps to digestion with which I am acquainted; and the custom prevalent among our forefathers, of exciting it at table by jesters and buffoons, was founded on true medical principles.—Hufeland.

Brothers, Eh?

A certain curate was of a painfully nervous temperament, and in consequence was constantly making awkward remarks intended as compliments—to the bishop and others.

Having distinguished himself in an unusual degree during a gathering of clergy at an afternoon tea a short while ago in the bishop's palace, he was taken to task for his failings by a senior curate, who was one of his companions on the way home.

"Look here," said Simms, the senior, decidedly, "you're a donkey. Why can't you keep quiet instead of making your asinine remarks? I am speaking to you as a brother."

Loud laughter interrupted him at this point, and for the moment he did not see the joke.

Physical impossibility.
"I promise you my art will make a speaking likeness of your wife."
"You can't. She's dumb."
